The valuable spirulina algae Spirulina platensis in premium quality: natural, highly pure & 100 % plant-based

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The natural, 100% plant-based supplement

Spirulina platensis*: premium algae from Germany

Since its discovery as a purely plant-based food supplement, it has made a triumphal march around the world and enjoys great popularity in modern nutrition - the green-blue microalgae Spirulina platensis. Unfortunately, algae are particularly good at absorbing heavy metals and other undesirable substances from their environment. In order to avoid contaminated raw materials, it is important to select responsibly cultivated algae. BIOGENA Spirulina 400 is made from high-quality, quality-tested microalgae from Germany. The spirulina algae used here is cultivated in a controlled environment in large tanks in protective greenhouses and is of the highest quality and purity. The spirulina is harvested using fine-meshed nets and dried on trays at just over 40 °C. The gentle drying process helps to preserve the natural cell structure.
